
How the wolf celebrated his birthday

Aisha Gisaeva

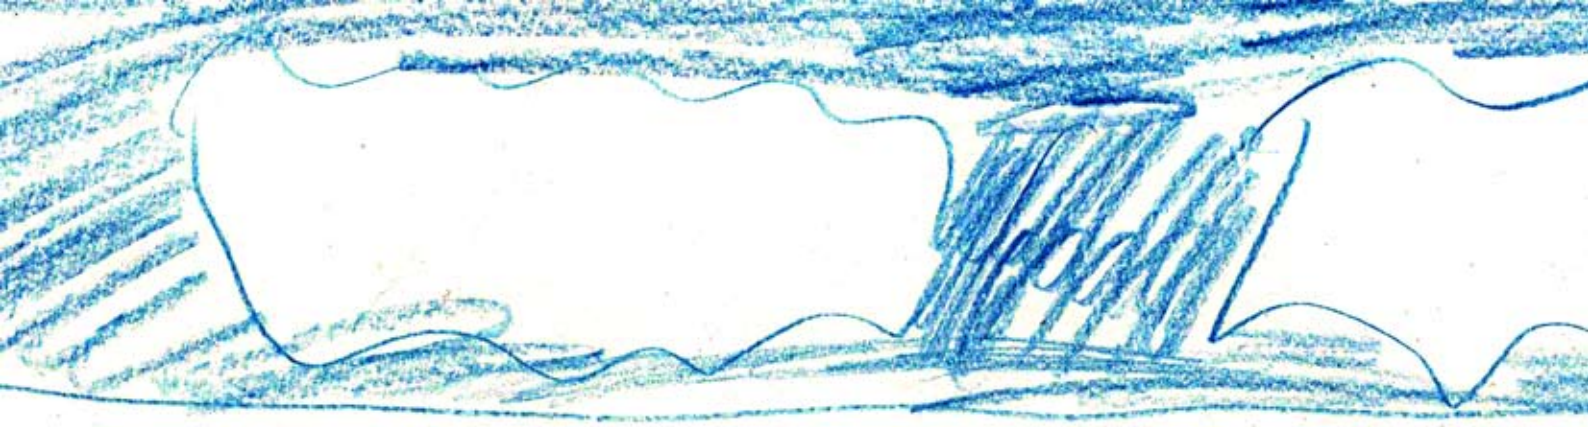
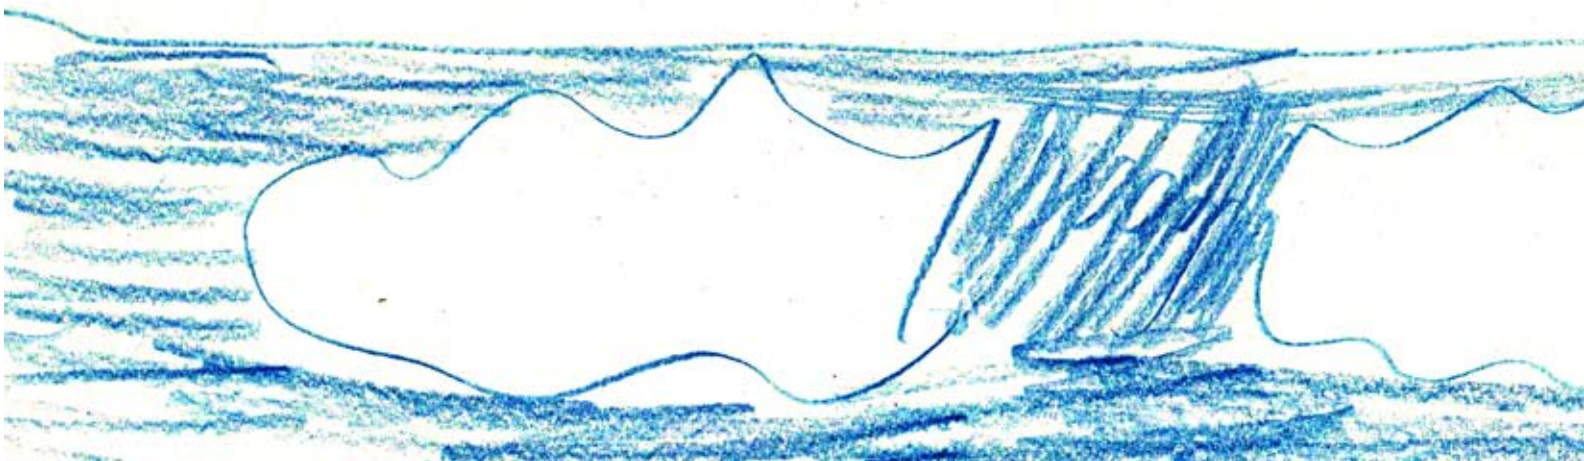
Once upon a time there was a wolf. It was his birthday but nobody came to his birthday party.



This made the wolf mad, so he went on a bunny hunt, but all the bunnies were hiding, because they knew that the wolf was looking for them.



Then the wolf went to the bunny burrow, but there weren’t any bunnies there either.

Then the wolf realised that he had to be nice to the bunnies. So, he went and got some carrots and gave the carrots to the bunnies.

And at the end, the wolf invited the bunnies to come to his birthday and celebrated his party together with them.
